Managing Director Tristan Seal said:

"I'm very proud of the commitment and effort that our entire team has shown in expanding and developing our product portfolio, services and facilities for our extensive customer base. Customers not only expect the best products, but also demand the very best in service from our parts advisors and delivery teams. We recognise our customers have plenty of choice when it comes to sourcing their parts and I would take this opportunity to say thank you to all our customers and to all our staff for making the company what it is today."
